

Welcome to St. Jude’s Parish in Monroe! Our parish seeks to become a place where people encounter God, fall in love with Him, are transformed by His Spirit, and become missionary disciples in the world today.

We believe in building on the Five Pillars of the Church:

1. Worship – everything we do begins with our relationship with God, Who first loved us.
2. Formation – we then allow the Truth of Jesus Christ, found in Scripture and in the Tradition of the Catholic Church, to change our hearts and our lives so that we become fully mature in holiness.
3. Evangelization – once Christ has changed our hearts, we seek to offer Him to a world that is so desperately in need of His love.
4. Community – this Christian life cannot be lived in isolation. We foster intentional friendships with other disciples for mutual support and encouragement.
5. Service – our love for Jesus should translate into love for our neighbor, especially the poor, the unborn, the immigrant, and those most vulnerable among us.

I encourage you to check out our parish website where you can find the many opportunities to encounter Jesus Christ through His Catholic Church. We offer many different ministries and groups – find one, plug in, and get involved! We welcome your contribution of time and talent, as well – whether a visitor or a long-time parishioner, God can and will work through you for the strengthening of the Church!

Please don’t hesitate to contact me at our parish offices at parish.office@stjuderc.com or by phone at 203-261-6404.

Let us pray for each other, that we may all become saints!

Your father in Christ,

Fr. Joseph Gill
